

Logistics and accommodation tips

Due to a full programme on September 9-11th, we recommend arriving to Gdańsk on the evening of September 8th.

Getting from Gdansk Airport to city centre:

From Gdansk Lech Walesa Airport it is easy to reach Gdansk City Center with a train or bus connection. The journey takes approximately 30-45 minutes. No matter if you land in the new or old terminal, it is very easy to find all means of public transport getting from Gdansk Airport to Gdansk City Centre. All you need to do is to follow special lines. Both the train station and the bus stop are very close to the airport.

By Bus

There is direct bus from Gdansk airport to Gdansk City Centre. It arrives in front of the main railway station in Gdansk (Dworzec Główny bus stop) as well as next to Brama Wyzynna Bus Stop – very close to Długa Street. The number of the line is 210 – it leaves the airport (Port Lotniczy bus stop) at least once an hour on weekdays, and once an hour on Saturdays, Sundays and public holiday. The journey lasts about 30 minutes if there is no traffic, but expect it to be longer (40-45 minutes) in the morning and afternoon. One ride ticket costs 3,20 PLN. You can buy the ticket from the driver, automatic ticket machine or using the Android App (e. g Skycash: <https://www.skycash.com/>). The train (PKM) departs from the platform nearest the terminal although not all run to Gdańsk Główny, the main train station in Gdańsk. There are two train platforms at the Gdansk Airport train station. To get to city centre, you need to enter the one closer to the airport. You may need to change at Gdańsk-Wrzeszcz (note the destination). The journey will take about 30 mins on a direct train and about 45 mins if you need to change. The cost is 6,5 PLN. The ticket for the train may be obtained in the automatic ticket machine. For more information about schedule please click here: http://www.skm.pkp.pl/en/
